

ADRENALINE PEN EXPIRY REMINDER

STAY PREPARED, STAY PROTECTED

If you have previously been issued an adrenaline (EpiPen/Jext) auto-injector, it is important to regularly check the expiry date. An expired pen may not work effectively in an emergency.

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO

- Check the expiry date on your adrenaline pen.
- If it has expired or due to expire within the next month, please request a replacement from your GP.
- Sign up for the manufacturer's free expiry alert system to receive reminders before your pen expires.

WHY IT MATTERS

Adrenaline pens are life-saving devices used in severe allergic reactions. Having an in-date pen ensures you are ready to respond quickly and safely.